

Who We Are

Voice For Horses Rescue Network (VFHRN) is an Ohio 501 (c) 3 Non-profit Humane Corporation organized in November of 1999 for the purpose of providing food, water, shelter and veterinary care to horses that are: sick, injured, abandoned, abused, neglected, slaughter bound or when an owner can no longer care or keep them for whatever reason.

We also network with other equine rescues across the 50 states, local humane societies, law enforcement, therapeutic riding centers and horse clubs with the placement of horses. We receive no government, city or united way money. We are an all volunteer organization that is funded solely by the caring and generous public.

VFHRN assists with cruelty investigations in cooperation with local humane societies and law enforcement officials. Our goal is to help as many equine as possible, by alleviating equine abuse and neglect through awareness.

VFHRN understands the need to avoid becoming overextended as well as the need to be able to properly maintain and care for all equine already in our care. We will help any horse in need if our funding and barn space will allow.

Adopted equine who need to be returned due to circumstances with the family will ALWAYS take precedence over others due to our mandatory return policy.

"Chief" came to us November 1, 2013 after a Tiger Sanctuary refused him due to lack of "meat" with a body score of 1 near death and generous donations from the public, we were able to nurse this 18+ yr old Thoroughbred gelding back to health with the help of our trained volunteers & our experience with neglected horses he has blossomed into the horse we knew he could be. VFHRN rescues horses who have been abused, neglected, abandoned, unwanted, heading to slaughter/auction or whose owner can no longer care for them as well as retired lesson/therapeutic & Mounted patrol horses. Once assessed and ready for adoption they are rehomed into approved loving homes.

The horses go onto being 4-H horses and shown at fairs and open shows, trail riding companions for families or pasture puffs to be a buddy for another horse.
